

Boente Pop up socket

Pop up socket is suitable for office desk, kitchen worktop, conference table with integrates power socket and the light current interface in the same product. It will hidden under the desk with occupied 9cm circle hole on desktop. The body of product us high quality aluminum treatment with anodizing. Very bright and beautiful, easy to clean. All function keys can be connected with cable or flat cable. Press the upside of socket, the cover will be pop up more than 1.5cm, then user could pull the cover out, the function panel will showed if using product. Plugging it with each corresponding socket when the connector reaches lower limited site. The process is same as opening if would like to closed product.

Product Feature:

Various installation ways, can be vertical fixed, horizontal fixed and handstand fixed.

Hidden pulling design for product

Simple to cut the hole, open a 9cm circle hole on desktop for product.

To adopt the configuration combination, as power, telephone, network, audio, video and other sockets could be choice as required

Outer cable including two types, 1.5m extend wires or female to female interconnection modules. Interconnect type is without any cables, simple and safe.

Model Type for Choice:

UK Standard Version

EU Standard Version

US Standard Version